Welcome to career counselling!

At career counselling a licensed psychologist will help you to identify the factors that influence your career choices. We will help you to assess your interests, abilities and values. We will consider your current work experience and education, as well as the effects of your health and your broader psychosocial life situation, so that you can make realistic plans and decisions concerning education and work.

You will also be instructed where to find information about different professions, education and alternative paths if your current situation doesn't allow you to apply for work or study. Each counselling session will take approximately for one hour and the number of sessions is individual to each client.
